Ptolemy's Epicyclic Model for the Planets

This model applies to Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn; more complex models are required for the Moon and Mercury; simpler epicyclic or eccentric models can be used for the Sun.

Ptolemy's Physical Planetary Model

Compare this physical realization with the mathematical model. Since the inner and outer surfaces are concentric, adjacent planetary models can be nested with no intervening empty space.